

School is an institution which is responsible for the social and academic development of students. Teachers (or parents) who place too much importance on academics have cheated their students (children) ... just as students who spend too much time socializing have cheated themselves. — CRAIG WERTZ, Class of '80.

