Doug Sommers and Richard Carr were the coaches who led the J.V. wrestlers to a dynamic season. Techniques and maneuvers were practiced which they learned from the coaches and from practice with the varsity team. From the workouts with varsity, the J.V. players say they got a lot more than just experience from their varsity counterparts.

Bitburg has had many fine winning J.V. teams that have sent several members to the ranks of varsity, and this year was no different. With excellent coaches and talented young men, losing was virtually impossible.
