

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society recognizes students who have shown outstanding achievement in four areas: academics, character, leadership, and service. The 1994-95 NHS officers are President Chris Hartley, Vice President Al Lemaire, and Secretary Tara Hull.

NHS has sponsored a number of fund raisers to pay for the induction of this year's newcomers in May. The gold sash and tassel worn by NHS members at graduation further distinguishes their achievement.

Junior Kristin Dallager comments on how people benefit from being NHS members: "The National Honor Society helps people realize that they can succeed in life and shows them the different chances they will have when they get out of high school."
