

ΔΡΙΑ TEAM

What drives students to join the Drill Team? Is it the fancy marching? Is it the trips that they take? Is it discipline? It is all this and more.

The motivators that drive cadets to join the Drill Team are the chances the develop discipline and leadership, and to take trips to compete for Drill Competition. The Drill Team cadets strive to be above and beyond the best. Drill Team is not all about fancy marching and spinning rifles, but it is about taking pride in everything the cadets have accomplished.

The cadets go to Drill Competition to show that all their hard work does pay off. This year's Drill Competition will be hosted by Bitburg on the 22nd of April at Spangdahlem. Several other units from around Europe will be coming to compete.

Even if the Drill Team doesn't win 1st place, they know that they tried to do their best and they can achieve anything just as long as they put their minds to it.

The Drill Team supplied Color Guards for all home football and basketball games and at base events. Color Guard, which presents the American flag, consists of four cadets, two of whom carry rifles and the other two to carry the flags. By presenting the colors they show pride in their country.

MILITARY BALL ROYALTY., Seated (L-R): King Anthony Squiabro, Queen Priscilla Davis. Standing: Curtis Jackson, Natasha Yancey, Thomas Mashaw, Melissa Klecan, Kevin Clements, Nicole Schulze.

Preparing to put on an Exhibition for the Bitburg Elementary students

SECOND SEMESTER DRILL TEAM. Bottom Row (L-R): Lanelle Picke SMSgt. Huberto Garcia. Top Row: Melissa Klecan, Brandon Remley, Chad Gemeinhardt, Chris Dowell, Marco Giunco, Sarah Edwards. Not Pictured: Dave Chandler, Priscilla Davis, Barbara Giunco.