

Wild Women Win

The Lady Barons soccer team started the season with a "bang," tying the Ramstein Royals, a Division I school. "This year's soccer team has a lot of potential. If we concentrate and work together, we will achieve our goals," says Captain Kristen Dallager, a senior.

A combination of returning talent and incoming freshmen provides the diversity that contributes to a winning team. Strong offensive freshman players Sarah Woodrow and Julie Markowski add young talent to the returning offensive pair of Tamara Hollomon and Liz Thompson. Also, starting as an incoming sophomore, Tillie Macias shares her stateside-trained talent with the team.

Though the offense receives a lot of credit, defenders Renee Brinkley, Michelle Zimmermann, Nanea Goetz, Mary Hinchey and Holly Holland constitute the backbone of the team. They dominate the back half of the field and give the support that enables the team to succeed.

Hoping to end their high school careers with a successful season, seniors Laura Rodriguez, Milissa Withelmi, Kristen Dallager, Erin Houle, Leah Schnell and Brooke Spridgen know they will be leaving the team to capable leaders.

Above: Leah Schnell, the varsity goalie, grimaces as she gets ready to step into the goal box.

Above: Holly Holland, the sweeper, plans to sweep herself off the page.

Above left: Returning Lady Baron Soccer Players 1996. Bottom Row, L-R: Nanea Goetz, Becki Whitney, Mary Hinchey, Renee Brinkley, Tamara Hollomon. Top Row: Varsity Coach Kennedy, Megan Blackham, Kristen Dallager, Brooke Spridgen, Milissa Withelmi, Laura Rodriguez, Michelle Zimmermann, Holly Holland, Elizabeth Thompson, JV Coach Johnson.

Above: After a hard, muddy practice, Heather Holmes, done up in her 'mud princess' drab, holds a soccer ball feast for her starving friend Julie Markowski.