

No group knows hardship better than the MUNers. Despite the temporary closing of Anthony's pizza, the determined class worked together to compensate for their fundraising loss. Here Geoff, Bethany, Sophie, and Amanda prepare those delicious sub-sandwiches.

MUN kicked off the school year with an Aloha Bowl Dance. The party animals at the dance got in the mood with tropical drinks and Hawaiian shirts. Here Vu, Pete, and Joey show that MUN knows how to party.

Geoff, Mike, and other MUNers work the assembly line producing sub-sandwiches. At times it got pretty messy, but the end result was a delicious lunch for many teachers and students.

Listen
to  reason

Mike Kamp, just like his fellow MUNers, spends long hours researching nuclear waste, one of many topics explored each year by student delegates representing countries around the world.

Mr. Loffelman is the sponsor of MUN. Thanks to his support and dedication, many of MUN's ideas are put into action.

Are they models for GQ? Brooks, Pete, and Nate show their business attire required for MUN conferences.

MUNer Shenita Long will be the only returning member next year. This was her first year in Model United Nations. "MUN has been a lot of work, but it is well worth it."