

The Model United Nations class is designed to prepare students to participate in The International Model United Nations conference held annually in The Hague, Netherlands. All participants travel to The Hague for the week long conference where they will assume the role of a delegate in the United Nations. The class prepares students for the tasks and obligations each will have while serving on a committee at THIMUN. Learning about the obligations and efforts of the United Nations is a centerpiece of the class. Public speaking, debates, resolution writing, and of course, fund-raising are other skills that are built and taught during the semester.

What was so great about THIMUN?

Mary-Lynn Piper:
 "IT WAS SO MUCH FUN!!!
 Being able to travel to another country with such great classmates was a blast :-)"

Kamaile Snyder:
 "The best thing about MUN was being able to meet and talk with other students from foreign countries."

Jasmine Karamzadeh:
 "Meeting new people from all over the world, and also being a part of a resolution that passed in the Disarmament Commission."
