Beko, Barry win prep cross-country titles

By CHARLIE BOWDEN
Munich Bureau

MUNICH — Wiesbaden's Jason Beko set a relentless pace here Saturday to easily win the boys competition in the Central European High School Cross-Country Championships.

SHAPE's Candice Barry, seeded fourth, barely nipped Heidelberg's Michelle Ramos to take the girls race.

Hosting Munich High School's girls, with three finishing in the top 25, won their fourth straight small schools title, handily outdistancing second place AFCENT 26-57. Ramstein, also with three in the top 25, won the big schools title.

Heidelberg's boys, paced by four runners in the top 25, easily downed second place Zweibruecken to take the big schools title, while AFECENT topped Munich's Mustangs for the small schools crown.

Beko, unbeaten this year and seeded first, quickly moved to the front of the pack of 97 boys that had survived the cross country regionals last weekend. Beko's record pace was never seriously challenged and he finished some 20 yards and five seconds ahead of Frankfurt International School's Sam Chamberlain.

"I wanted the lead," Beko said after the race. "I've never been good at running behind people." Beko, a senior, said he hopes his performance will help earn him a track scholarship to a major university.

Runner-up Chamberlain was not surprised at Beko's quick move to the front. He had faced him once before during the season with similar results. "I thought I might could take him on the hills but I couldn't," he said. "I wanted to hold to second."

Munich's Ken Kramer, expected to be a strong contender on his home course against Beko, was questionable before the race because of an inflamed liver. Munich Coach Tom Willett said Kramer was only about 75 percent, but that he had run sub-16 minute times on the Munich course before. Beko finished with in 15:43, breaking Kramer's old course record.

In the girls' race, fourth seeded Barry took a similar stance, moving to the front of the pack of 87 girls early and holding on for a one-second finish over Heidelberg's Ramos, seeded 13th. Top seeded Tiki Suarez of Mannheim fell behind and couldn't catch up, finishing 10th.

Munich's Christy Lovretta, who came on strong toward the end of the season culminating with a win last week at the regionals, paced a strong showing for the girls that helped them earn their fourth title and retain their unbeaten record that covers four years.
